

The Jewish Study Center cordially invites you to:

VS.

The 14th Annual Latke-Hamentash Symposium

Tuesday, March 22nd, 7-9 PM at GW Hillel, 23rd and H St, NW

How does the round potato pancake square off against the tri-corner pastry? Join the Jewish Study Center for a humorous mock debate over the superior Jewish food.

Each speaker presents an argument on the relative merits of each traditional food using justifications from across the academic spectrum. Scholars come from all areas of the community academically, professionally, and socially, and after the debate is completed, the participants and the audience have the opportunity to decide for themselves with a latke and hamentash taste-test.

This event is $5 in advance, $6 at the door. For more information, please visit www.jewishstudycenter.org or call us at (202) 332-1221.
